ACBLPE 2027 Site Content and Visual Map

Content review workbook

Content updated from the local site source on 7 November 2026

This workbook maps every published page to its components, nested blocks, text and images. Use the blank space after each text item to enter a correction. Existing wording is reproduced without editorial changes. Header and footer content appears once under common components.

The visual map follows the complete content map. Each page is shown in site order at desktop, tablet and mobile widths. Long components continue across numbered image parts. Screenshots reflect the current local site preview. Browser controls and the floating duplicate section tracker are omitted.

Site scope

Page	Route	Main components
Landing	/landing	7
Registration	/registration	3
People	/people	3
Venue	/venue	4
Call for Papers	/call-for-papers	4

The root route / redirects to /landing and has no separate page content. Navigation and footer are common to all five pages. Font loading and document head resources are infrastructure rather than visible content blocks.

Reading the map

The hierarchy runs from page to component to block and finally to a text item or image. The numbered paths preserve nesting and order. Link destinations and image sources are recorded as supporting details. Accessible labels are included even when they are not visible in the default screenshot.

All correction areas are intentionally blank. Text casing follows the source content rather than CSS uppercase styling. Decorative arrows and icons are listed as imagery instead of editable wording. The Upcoming timeline label is time dependent.

Content map

Pages appear in navigation order, followed by the call for papers page. Shared header and footer content follows the page maps.

SectionLabel

A reusable section number, rule and label. Its actual text values are listed at every usage in the page map. The rule is decorative.

AzulejoFlipCard and AzulejoTileArtwork

The landing page date and Goa cards use an ornamental SVG face and a quiet bordered content face. Text and icons remain HTML over SVG. The cards reveal content on entry and return to ornament on exit. Reduced motion shows content immediately. Both card instances and their images are mapped under Satellite and ConferenceVenue.

Document head resources

Image source: /favicon.svg with /favicon.ico as the fallback favicon. These small browser icons are shared by all pages.

Visual map

Screenshots are ordered by page, then desktop 1440 by 1000 pixels, tablet 768 by 1024 pixels and mobile 390 by 844 pixels. Within each device size, components follow their order on the page. Screenshot heights expand to include the full component. Shared Navigation and MinimalFooter screenshots appear separately at the end.

Screenshots use reduced motion, a hidden duplicate section tracker, and an unpinned abstract introduction.

01 Title

Choose a title that clearly indicates the topic of the paper and is no more than one line long.

02 Topic

In the abstract, state the topic clearly.

03 Prior work

Make reference to prior work on the topic.

04 Linguistic data
